STATE & UNIVERSITY

"Here's the entrance to the Campus of your Alma Mater. As you go up this walk you enter a greater, broader life, as glorious and expansive as the stately pines that stand at its beginning."

“There stands Old Main—the first building on Wyoming’s campus. A wealth of tradition hangs about the majesty of this structure, and you will learn to cherish it. This temple of learning represents the seed of a mighty institution, growing to enrich the lives of a million of Wyoming’s youth.”

"Merica Hall—;well, you know that building already, for you're going to live there. Old Merica stands a silent witness to all these years of progress, grateful for the lawns and trees that have grown up to enliven the surroundings."

"Yonder is the Library—the first of our new buildings. An air of profound erudition pervades its spacious halls, and you will feel its awesome effect. On the cornerstone is written this inscription: 'Reading Maketh a Full Man.'"

“And there you behold Wyoming’s great gymnasium—, a bold and enduring tribute to our institution. These words, ‘Man is of Soul and Body, formed for Deeds of High Resolve,’ inscribed across the front, herald the grand purpose for which the building was erected.”

"Vedauwoo [Glen—A natural stage set against a background of pines and great boulders. This beauty spot is a favorite setting for student picnics. It is the scene of many plays and picturesque pageants held by the dramatic fraternity—Theta Alpha Phi."

"Lake Marie high up in the Medicine Bow Range—where the racing mountain air refreshes the many excursionists who play about its shores. In the vicinity of this lake, Wyoming's Summer School students study nature at first hand supplementing the classroom and indoor laboratories."

“Standing proudly in the splendor of its solemn beauty there you see the Engineering building inspiring strength and courage to all those who come to study within its walls, giving them its motto, ‘Strive on. The control of nature is won—not given’”

ADMINISTRATION

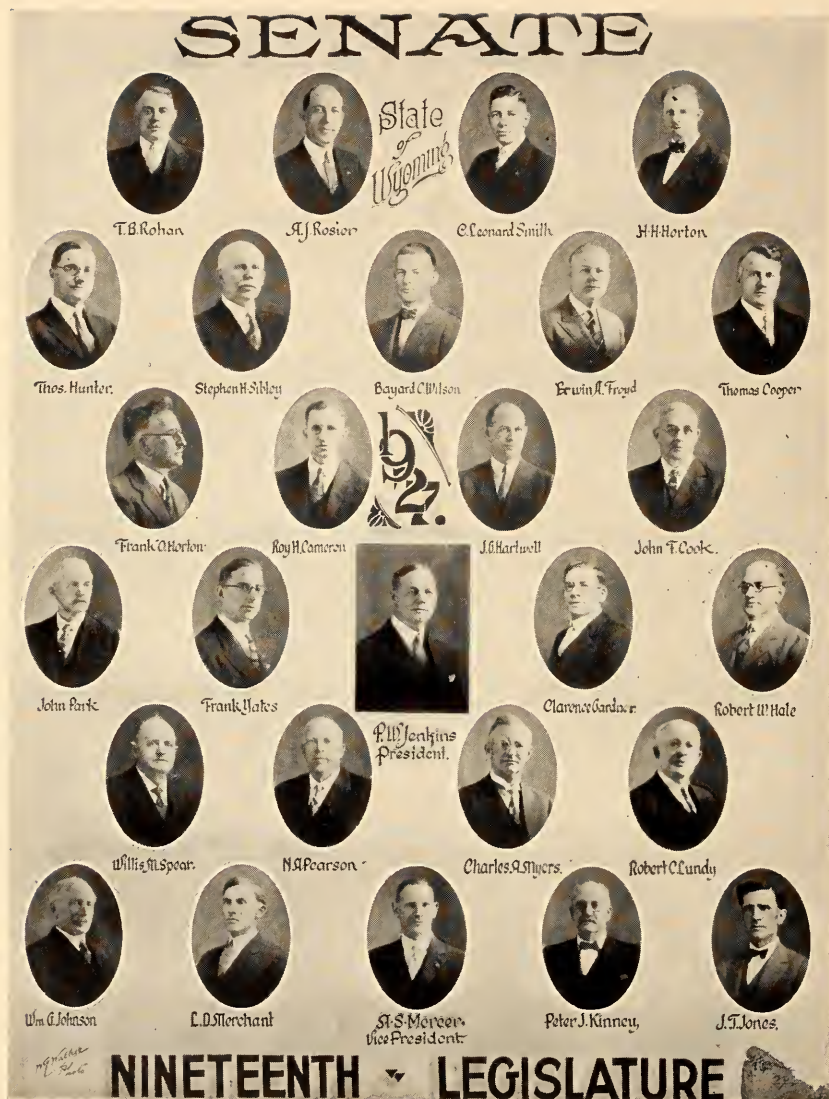

“ONE must have a feeling of real pride as they pass over the campus of this great institution of higher education and see its excellent physical features and realize the advantages that it is bringing the state in the education of its youth and in the service it is bringing to our people through its various functions. It is almost impossible to realize the good that this institution is doing in advancing the interests of Wyoming in many ways.

Development of our natural resources has hardly started. The University will play an important part in this material development. And in the better things of life—social service, civil and political life—its graduates are destined to step out into the world and provide the leadership which is the greatest need of our day.

The spirit of service is manifest in the University today. May its policy ever be to promote the best in the students who come to it for training.”

—Laramie Republican Boomerang

We should like to make use of this opportunity to thank the members of the 19th Legislature of the State of Wyoming for their most generous support of the cause of higher education.

We appreciated the visit of the legislature at Laramie this winter and we anticipate another such time when the lawmakers of the State shall again be with us as our guests, if only for a day.

Standing—FAY E. SMITH, FRED W. GEDDES, J. M. SCHWOOB, PRESIDENT CRANE, FRANK A. HOLLIDAY, J. A. ELLIOTT, D. P. B. MARSHALL, WILL M. LYNN
Seated—P. J. QUEALY, MRS. KATHARINE A. MORTON, GOVERNOR EMERSON, HARRIET T. GRIEVE, ANNA B. HAGGARD

“THE government of the University shall vest in a board of nine trustees to be appointed by the Governor, not more than three of whom may be residents of any one county of the state, together with the Governor, the President of the University and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, as members ex-officio. The term of office of the trustees appointed shall be six years.”

President Elliott and Treasurer Geddes are now entering their second six-year terms. Mr. Quealy served two years of an unexpired term and was reappointed for six years. The other members, Mrs. Haggard, Mr. Holliday, Mr. Marshall, Mrs. Grieve, Mr. Schwoob and Mr. Lynn are serving the original appointments. Mrs. Morton, an ex-officio member, is beginning her third four-year term. Governor Emerson and President Crane are the other ex-officio members.

FAY E. SMITH, Secretary.

FACULTY

ANOTHER year has come and gone and again we present this book with its record of happy events. It has been a year of progress and growth for the University. We hope it has also been a year in which the University has rendered improved service to Wyoming. This attractive book of record will help to recall many happy memories of those whose history it includes. It will be a foretaste of happy college days to those who are contemplating courses in college. We congratulate its editors and managers upon its completion. We know they have worked hard to create such a splendid representation of the University of Wyoming. To all who may read it the University extends greetings and good will. We hope that it may bring to young and old something of the spirit of youth in college halls.

A. G. CRANE,

President.

MISS REBA M. DAVIS, B. L. S.
Librarian

THE Librarian occupies a position of great importance in our administration. Her influence is felt by each and every student indirectly. A great part of the student work requires much outside reading and research which is necessarily done in the library. If the student is to really acquire some knowledge from this research he must be ably assisted and guided in his readings. Although the student is not cognizant of the influence of the Librarian, it is ever present.

HELEN C. BISHOP, M. A.
Dean of Women

LUELLA GALLIVER, M. A.
Assistant Dean of Women

THE position of Dean of Women is one of great responsibility. A wide area must be covered in which ideals of the very highest in physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual lines must be developed. One of the duties of our higher institutions of learning is to instil into every young person a wholesome respect for the laws of our land. Not only the laws on our statute books, but the broader moral and social law observance which is so essential to our welfare. The young people who learn these very important fundamentals of good citizenship must be taught them at an impressionable age, thus the college student falls into this age classification quite naturally.

RALPH E. McWHINNIE, B. A.
Registrar

THE REGISTRAR

COLLEGE records have been transformed from a mere list of subjects, credit hours and grades, staring blankly at one, row after row, to a very interesting history of the student for four precious years of his life, constituting a memory book to be cared for and guarded forever by the college registrar.

By the addition of a photograph to the college record, the personality of the student is brought into play to give that individual charm so necessary to the appeal of this chronicle of the student's life.

As the years pass the record progresses and shows the organizations with which the student is identified, the honors received from participation in competitive contests for the college, the social, literary, athletic, or scholastic honors attained—in short, any activity which would describe the individual personality and the college life of the student which is important in the record.

Finally, when the student has completed his course in the University and has received his diploma from the hands of the President, this final item is entered on his record: "Graduated, June seventh, nineteen hundred twenty-seven." His written history for this period is ended, but his memory remains in the hearts of faculty and students alike.

DIVISION OF LETTERS AND SCIENCES

THE purpose of the College of Liberal Arts is to secure to its students the point of view and culture obtained from a liberal education and to take part in extending the boundaries of the fields of knowledge which come within its jurisdictions. The Division of Letters and Sciences is the largest division of the school, and practically all students have courses or electives in the above departments.

THE DIVISION OF MUSIC

THE Division of Music offers curricula in the practical and theoretical study of music and is designed to fit the student for the profession as teacher, theorist, or performer.

The Division of Music is housed in a modern sound-proof building all its own. There are four studios, eight practice rooms, and a recital hall. There are twelve pianos in the building for teaching and practice purposes. Other equipment includes special orchestra instruments, a large collection of orchestra music, a phonograph with a comprehensive library of records, an assortment of music for theoretical study and part-singing, and many books on music subjects.

Many musical organizations are operated under the Division of Music. Among them are the University Chorus which gives the "Messiah" each year at Christmas time, the University orchestra, the Women's and Men's Glee Clubs, and the University R. O. T. C. Band.

THE DIVISION OF COMMERCE

DURING the past number of years there has been a manifest and growing demand for training in the theory and practice of business. To satisfy this demand the Division of Commerce was created in the University of Wyoming. It affords the students the opportunity of acquiring under expert tutelage a knowledge of the fundamental facts and principles which underlie the business world. The practical side of the business world is demonstrated by various field trips to study the manufacturing of products and the application of business principles to these different phases of business.

THE LAW SCHOOL

THE Law School was founded in 1920 and is the one law school in the state of Wyoming. The Law School is the product of the best methods and principles embodied in the old law schools of the country, together with the stimulus and zeal of a growing institution of learning. Because of adherence to the prescribed standards for admission and graduation, the Law School was chosen to be a member of the Association of American Law Schools, and also received Class A rating by the American Bar Association. There are originally only thirty-nine schools in the American Bar Association and our Law School's strength is thereby proved.

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

VERY briefly, the purpose of the College of Education is the preparation of students for the profession of teaching. A wider scope is reached, however. Not only is training given in the art of teaching, but of teaching well.

The college has for its province the training of all kinds of teachers as well as all kinds of educational leadership needed for service in the schools of the state. An extensive course outlined to meet the needs of teachers who will teach in rural schools, vocational high schools, elementary grades, and who will teach exceptional children, is offered. Training schools, class work and laboratories are provided for the demonstration of educational principles and also an opportunity for the student teacher to put into execution his theoretical principles under critical and sympathetic supervision. Realizing, also, that teachers must have a broad background, the school extends and maintains academic and classical work of the most fundamental and worth-while kind, which students can and do use.

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

THE College of Agriculture continues to grow. This enables the College to serve more and more in the development of the farms and homes of the state. Our greatest agricultural development in the next twenty-five years will come through our own men and women of Wyoming who study in the Wyoming Agricultural College.

They will know the types of livestock that are suited to Wyoming conditions, and the home-grown feeds that are the most efficient. They will be able to select varieties of plants suited to the climate and soil of the state. They will understand how to market livestock, wool, and crops. They will understand the problems of the business management on the farms and ranches of the state. They will know useful native plants of Wyoming, and also ones that are poisonous. They will know the climate and the geology and the geography of this great state. They will know how to found enduring homes. Best of all they will know and be able to work with the men and women of Wyoming who were trained on the University campus and who will furnish a large part of the future leadership of the state. The doctors, the lawyers, the business men, the engineers, the educators, the state officials, the inventors, the scientists, and the sociologists.

THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

THE College of Engineering of the University of Wyoming has developed from the Department of Mechanic Arts, which had its beginning in the early days of the University. From the time of its beginning it has maintained a slow but steady growth until now it is one of the larger colleges on the campus. During the past three years this college has been fortunate in securing new quarters for its work. Three years ago the Shops Building was erected to house the shops and laboratories. This year the college will occupy its new classroom and office building, one of the finest and most imposing buildings on the campus. With these new facilities it is expected that the College will continue to grow in the amount of service which it renders to the industries of the state.

A. E. BOWMAN, B. S.
Director of Extension Department

THE Extension Service is organized to teach the fundamental principles and demonstrate the most practical methods in Home Economics and Agriculture to those who cannot attend the University. This work is carried out in a definite and systematic way with County Agents and State Specialists co-operating with the people in working out community and county problems.

MRS. CLARA BOWMAN, A. B.
Director of Correspondence Study

THE Correspondence Study Division of the University offers work in all colleges to those who are unable to attend the University. The Correspondence Study Division makes it possible for many who desire a higher education to obtain it in this way. The great development of our state is due in a large part to this excellent work which is carried on.

Secretary-Treasurer	MIRIAM EWERS

THE Senior Class of the year 1926-27 is one of which the University may well be proud, for in its midst are many personages notable on the campus, for their activities and proved abilities. Four of Wyoming's foremost debaters are Seniors this year. The class has members prominent in dramatic and literary activities, and when our Senior athletes are no longer with us, we shall miss many of our best stars in all branches of sports.

JUNIORS always consider themselves important. And with the responsibility of the Junior Prom, the Wyo, and the Junior Sneak day on their shoulders, certainly they are justified in realizing their importance upon the campus. But in addition they publish the Branding Iron—both executive members being Juniors. The caliber of these worthies, reflected in their works, is quite unsurpassed. Judge for yourselves—for their work is well done.

FRESHMAN CLASS

President	NEIL BOYER
Vice-President	CHARLES COUGHLIN
Secretary	OLIVE KEENER
Treasurer	J. M. HIRST

THIS year's Freshman Class may well be proud of their girls. They have competed in all the college athletic events for women. They were fortunate enough to win in all of these events. The Frosh boys have contributed much toward the athletic teams of the University.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

WYOMING women debaters carried the fame of Wyoming as a debate school to the far west this year. A team consisting of Mildred Callaham, Illeta Schopf, and Freda Conner made a western trip, meeting schools in Utah, Oregon, California and Nevada, debating three questions: "Woman's Place in the Home," "Education in America is Too Democratic," and "The Modern Tendency of Married Women to Work Outside the Home is Objectionable."

Several other debates were held with Colorado and Nebraska schools on the question, "Democracy is a Failure," bringing the total number of debates up to thirteen. A number of girls took part in these debates, both at home and away. The squad consisted of Mildred Callaham, Illeta Schopf, Freda Conner, Jewel Tilton, Carie Burles, Hettie Coble, Norma Young, Bula Trueblood and Irene Johnson.

One of the most evident tendencies in intercollegiate debating is that of having no-decision and open forum debates instead of decision contests. This is proving to be more conducive to good feeling between the schools and better results from the debates themselves because of the increased attendance.

The girls maintained Wyoming's record of superiority in debate in those debates in which decisions were rendered, winning from the hardest teams they met. Their score for the season was 3 to 2, the other debates being either no-decision or audience decision.

MEN'S DEBATE

THOSE who were among the successful in making the debating squad were Alfred Pence, Winston Howard, Claire Mondell, Orville Kelly, Jay Mowry, Herbert Lebert, and Warren Winter.

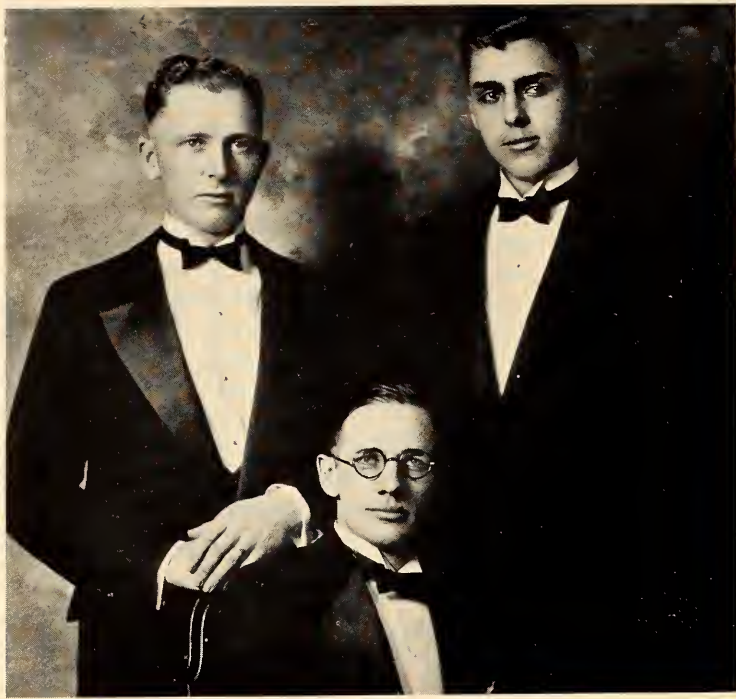

These men are to be congratulated for the excellent showing that they have made in the past three or four years.

Alfred Pence, who perhaps is one of the most outstanding figures in the debating field, has won recognition not only for himself, but for the University of Wyoming. "Al" is a member of the Junior class of 1927 and has held a prominent place on the debating squad for three years. Because of "Al's" pleasing personality, knowledge and delivery of the subject, good analysis, strong rebuttal and his keen contact with his audience entitles him to such recognition.

Claire Mondell is another Junior and is also entitled to a place on the debating squad. He has good knowledge of the subject and is quick at repartee. He is especially noted for his so-called "dry wit."

Herbert Lebert is another man who is entitled to the never ending praise that comes to the man who wins recognition as a Wyoming debater.

Winston Howard and the others who have entered in this field are also to be congratulated for the work that they have accomplished this year.

ALFRED PENCE

HERBERT LEBERT

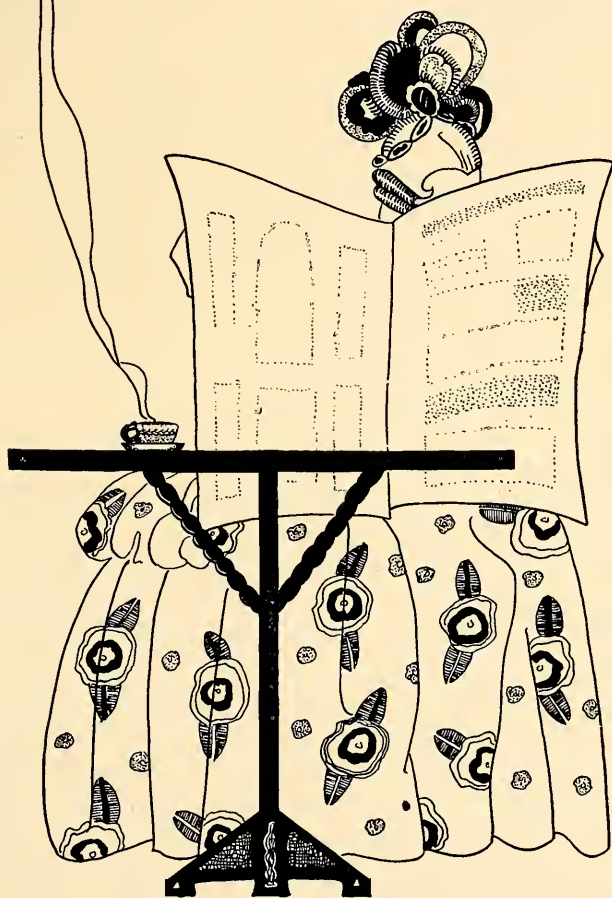

COACH H. P. CONSTANS

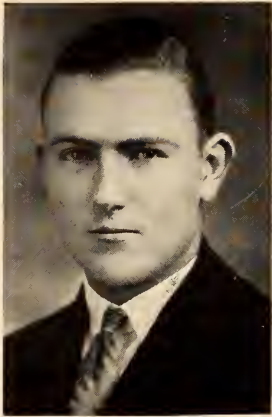

THE Cowboy debaters came through another successful debating season. The team, consisting of Alfred Pence, Herbert Lebert, and H. P. Constans, coach, successfully upheld the reputation of Wyoming debate teams of the past in securing seven out of eleven decisions, including in their victories the hardest schools on the schedule.

On the trip into Nebraska, Oklahoma and Arkansas, they met a number of strong teams and secured a very fair percentage of victories. One of the most unique developments of the season was the emphasis put on no-decision and open forum debates. Over half of the contests this year were of this character. The increased attendance at these no-decision contests speaks well for the idea.

On their trip the men debated teams representing Oklahoma University, Oklahoma College for Women in Oklahoma, Midland College, University of Omaha, and Creighton University in Nebraska, Arkansas College, College of the Ozarks, and University of Arkansas in Arkansas.

ALONG with the growth and expansion of the numerous student activities on the campus, the Branding Iron, official A. S. U. W. publication, must not be overlooked. It has this year, under the careful management of its editor, I. J. Burns, and business manager, Alfred Pence, grown into a regular six-page weekly newspaper. The circulation not only extends to every student on the campus, but it goes to every high school in the state and the greater part of the numerous institutions for higher learning in the country.

The Branding Iron may be said to have a threefold purpose—a training school for students interested in journalism, a publicity organ for the University, and a means of disseminating campus news.

THE 1927 WYO Staff has been eager to get the WYO out on time, and each and every book editor has worked with that end in view. That fact, coupled with the ability of the personnel, has gone a great ways toward making our Annual a success. The staff has worked as a concerted unit throughout the year and as a result the 1927 WYO is now a reality. The Business Staff has proved to be a very effective factor in the production of the book, and all the credit for the success of the Annual should go to the entire staff.

May all the good fortune possible fall upon the producers of the Annual of '28.

QUILL MAGAZINE

THE Wyoming Quill is a magazine published by Thorne Rune of the American College Quill Club. This year Volume VIII was printed in March. Some of the contributors were: Ruth Southworth, Gwendolyn McReynolds, Shelby Thompson, Joseph Morris, George Goodman, Jeanne Chez.

All of the articles were considered as true literary achievements. The stories were read with much enthusiasm by the many purchasers.

"W" BOOK

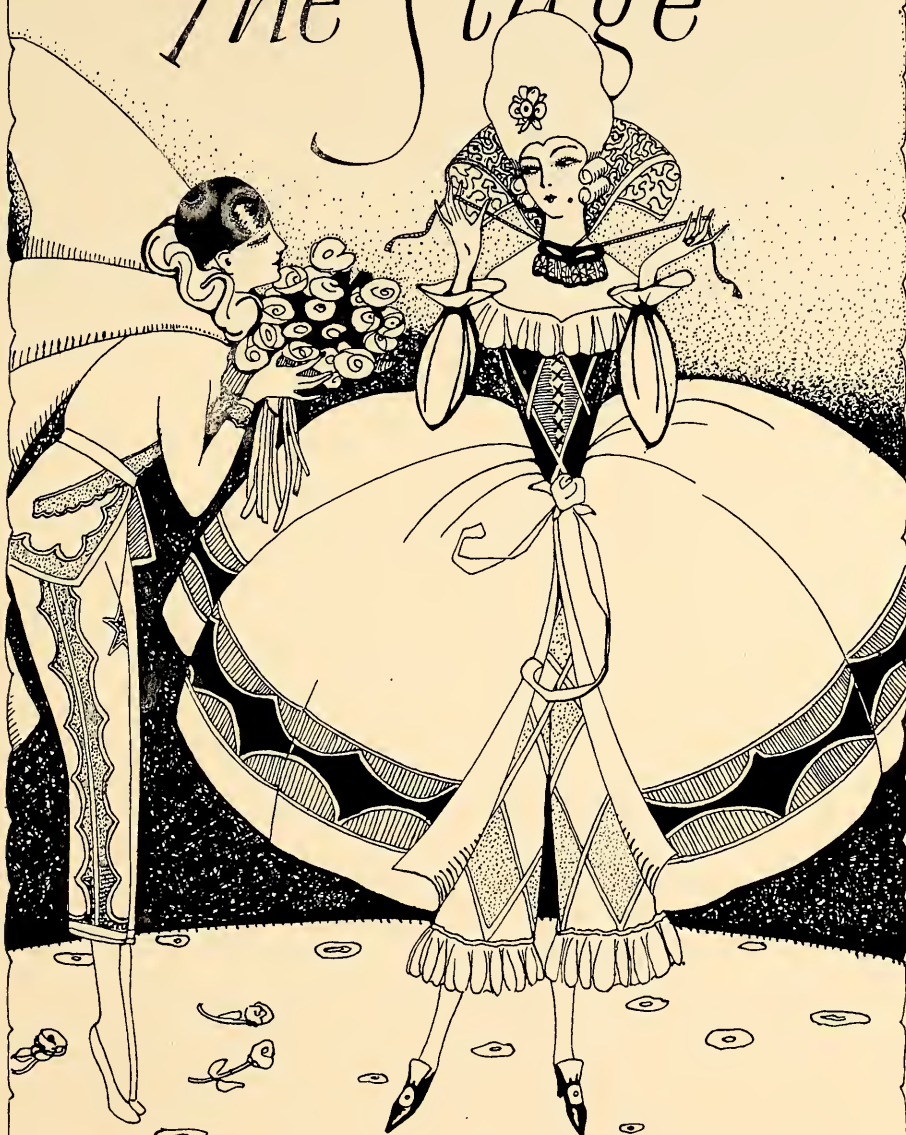

This small but significant volume, which is known as the Freshmans' New Testament, was given out at the beginning of the current school year, for the purpose of enlightening the Freshman in the unexplored regions through which he is to travel in University life.

UNIVERSITY DIRECTORY

The University Directory is the only directory published on the campus. It contains the names, classes, home addresses, Laramie addresses and phone numbers of all students and faculty. The students are also classed as to the fraternity and town. This book and the "W" book are issued by the S. C. A. students.

The organization and their respective officers is another feature of the University Directory.

“SAINT JOAN”

ON March the eleventh, Theta Alpha Phi presented George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" to a capacity crowd in the Little Theatre. The most skeptical were greatly pleased and the pessimists all jarred loose with words of praise. It was a large evening for spectators, a triumph for the cause, assurance that our honorary dramatic fraternity will not have to go out of business and, we should like to add, another feather in the cap of G. B. Shaw.

Saint Joan is the story of the Matron Saint of France, Joan of Arc. It is at once historically true and told in Shaw's inimitable style which gives the story interest—a distinctly human interest. It gives us a clear-cut picture of the medieval customs and feudal relations with which the modern ideals and national spirit of Joan clashed so flagrantly, constituting the theme of the play.

We feel that we cannot leave this subject without praising one member of the cast although we tread on thin ice when we attempt to select one for special plaudits from such a brilliant gathering. Miss Warner as Saint Joan must have fulfilled the author's every wish as to how the part should have been taken; she certainly is exemplary of all our ideals of history's greatest heroine. Her interpretation was perfect; she had all the fire, the devotion, the courage and the integrity of the original Jeanne d'Arc.

AN OLD-FASHIONED CONCERT

ONE of the most unique and yet characteristic events of the year was an Old-Fashioned Concert presented by Sigma Alpha Iota, at the Little Theatre, December 11, 1926.

The music and costumes were of the Civil War period and proved to be quite interesting.

The piano used was an "old square Steinway" which was recently presented by Mr. Goshen and the family of William A. Carter of Bridger, Wyoming.

The Mason harmonium used was perhaps the first instrument in Wyoming, which was in 1874.

The little horn violin used was quite unique; the body of the violin was made of a horn. It was played in a London theatre one hundred and twenty years ago.

MASK AND SANDAL

THREE plays were presented this year on the night of December 23, 1927. The plays presented were "Ask Me No Questions," one of Schnitzler's "Anatol" group, and "The Man Upstairs." The "Red Owl," by William Gillette, is a melodrama.

The plays were under the direction of Margaret Moudy, and the melodrama was under the direction of Consuelo Stevens, both of which are members of Theta Alpha Phi and the play production class under the supervision of Mabelle L. Dekay.

THE MESSIAH

THE Oratoria, "The Messiah," was composed one hundred eighty years ago. Handel, one of the greatest of the classical composers, wrote the composition in twenty-four days. This Oratoria is an elaborate composition, consisting of solós, concerted vocal numbers and chorus, the text of which was taken from scriptural sources.

The Messiah is in three parts—the first having to do with the prophecy of the coming of the Messiah and its fulfillment; the second referring to the passion and the crucifixion with the resurrection, and the third dealing with the oath of salvation and eternal life.

The Messiah is one of the most beautiful productions ever witnessed on the University of Wyoming campus.

CONSOLE ORGANS

THE town of Laramie and the University of Wyoming is fortunate in having two pipe organs, one of which is established in the Episcopal church and the other in the Presbyterian church.

Each year an organ recital is given under the direction of Mr. Frisbie.

These recitals are of unusual beauty and lend a beautiful color to the atmosphere of entertainment, both for the people of Laramie and University members.

The two organs are used by members of Mr. Frisbie's classes, and great benefit is derived from them by the students. At present these organs are a great asset to the churches, and to the music lovers of the community.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

THE Women's Glee Club takes an active part in the entertainment on the Wyoming campus.

The Glee Club members, under the able direction of Francelia French, have been working for some time on an Operetta which they hope to present to the student body. They have given us many splendid programs during the school year.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club holds a prominent place on the Wyoming campus. Although they are not well established, they promise a very rapid and continual advance.

During the school year the Men's Glee Club has shown marked ability and has produced and presented very interesting programs, which have been received with much enthusiasm by the members of the student body and members of the faculty.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

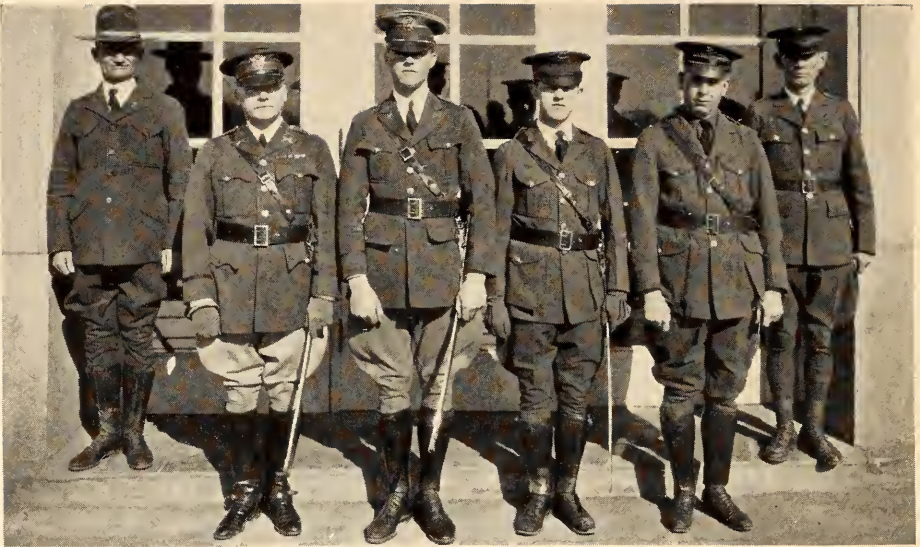

Under the able direction of Roger C. Frisbie the University is fortunate in having a University Orchestra.

The University Orchestra has been of great value to the many entertainments that have been given this year.

Their unusual talent in the musical world stood out most prominently in the "Minstrel," which was given by the members of the faculty. To the strains of music that was produced by the University Orchestra, the Minstrel went over with a "Bang."

THE Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Wyoming consists of a battalion of infantry, which is divided into four companies. The first two years are spent in learning the fundamentals and discipline of the army.

Instruction in the third and fourth years consists in applying the tactics of the unit to which the student belongs to concrete cases as well as special instruction in that unit.

A large amount of work in command and leadership is also given, this instruction being particularly applicable to the handling of large numbers of men.

STOCK JUDGING

ADOLPH HAMM, FOSTER BLODGETT, S. S. WHEELER, LEO PASCHAL, JACK DINWIDDIE

STOCK JUDGING TEAM FOR THE FIRST TRIP

THE University Stock Judging Team competed in the Kansas City Royal and also the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. Twenty-six institutions from all parts of the United States and one school from Canada were represented in these contests. The team was on the trip three weeks, during which time they visited and did practice judging work at the following schools and noted American show places: Kansas Agricultural College, Ames, Iowa; University of Illinois, Champaign, Illinois; Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana; Longrien Estate; Thompson Estate; Baker Shorthorn Farm; Sni-a-Bar Farms, and Lees Summit Farms, all of Jackson County, Missouri; C. J. Good Belgium Farm, Ogden, Iowa.

The University men who received individual awards were Frank Bucannen, first in hogs at Kansas City and fourth in hogs at Chicago; Adolph Hamm, second in hogs at Kansas City, fifth in hogs at Chicago and third in beef cattle at Chicago.

The University team of three men also competed in the first inter-collegiate meat judging contest at Wilson Packing Company, Chicago. Individual awards received were Bucannen, fifth place; Blodgett, third place in pork. The Wyoming team placed third in beef.

STOCK JUDGING

THE DENVER TRIP

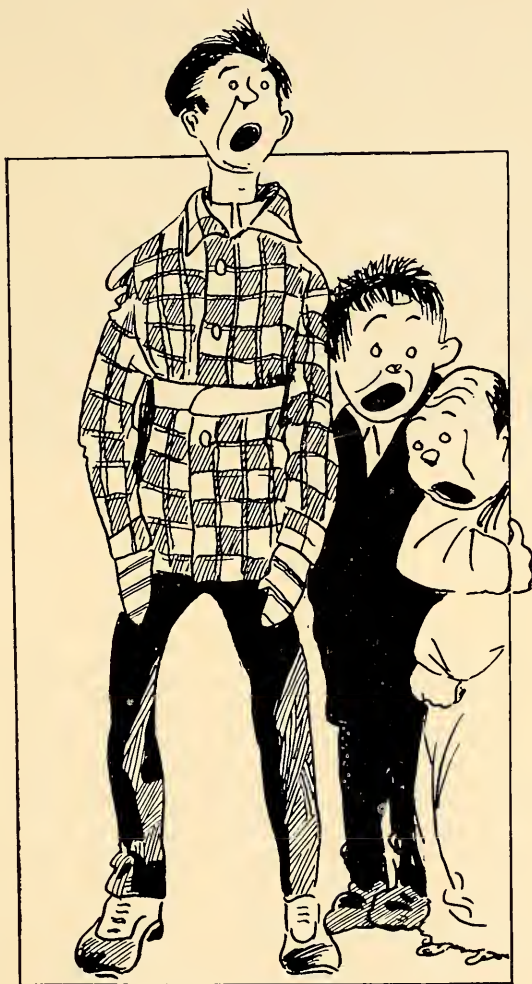

THE University Team for stock judging competed at the National Western Stock Show contest in Denver. Those who made the team for this contest are considered logical contenders for the team to compete at Chicago the following year.

The team started their trip on Wednesday, January 12, 1927, making a stop at Fort Collins, Colorado, for judging practice and a tour of the feed lots. The following Friday afternoon they left for Littleton, Colorado, where the team visited the J. D. Cannon place to see his herd of show stock.

The next day was spent in the contest, in Denver. The Wyoming team finished fourth in a field of high-class competitors. Bretell was high-point man, starring for Wyoming. Miss Whelan, the only woman contestant, was presented with a medal in recognition of her accomplishment.

SECOND ANNUAL "LITTLE INTERNATIONAL STOCK SHOW"

THE "Little International Livestock Show" at the gymnasium armory on April 9th gave the students of the College of Agriculture an opportunity to show their originality and ability in fitting animals for the show ring. This year the Ag Club sponsored the show and with the assistance of faculty members of the College of Agriculture it was very successful. The prize-winning livestock of the University were fitted and exhibited and there was also an exhibit from the agronomy department. The dance following the show was one of the best of the season, with the Kappa Sig orchestra furnishing the music. The Ag dances are always enjoyed by everyone, especially those held at the Stock farm every fall. Everyone seems to enjoy being a "hayseed" for at least that night.

The HIGH SCHOOL

Cheyenne—State Champions

Cheyenne came through in the Tenth Annual High School Week Tournament to win again the championship of their class, and finally the championship of the state.

In the championship battle with the Miners, Rock Springs, the Cheyenne Indians walked away from them with a score of 21-9.

The reward for winning the championship of the tournament entitles the winner to compete in the National Tournament held in Chicago.

The Cheyenne team met with defeat in the first two games that they played. But as the old slogan of Wyoming goes, "Wyoming men never quit." This not only holds true for the men of the University of Wyoming, but also for the High School men of the state.

Glenrock—Class B—Second Place

Glenrock, another favorite of the tournament, won second place in Class B.

Glenrock placed two of their men on the second All-State basket ball team—Watland, center on their team, and Surphin, who played forward.

Glenrock had a very neat team this year, and is to be congratulated, for this year is the first time that they have placed with the winners. It is hoped that they will not stop and next year place at the very top, which will mean a trip to Chicago.

Rock Springs—Class A—Champions

Rock Springs, known as the "Miners," again rose to the top and tried to cop the title as "Champions of the Tournament." Although they were defeated, they are to be admired for their efforts and clean sportsmanship. One of the most outstanding men on the Rock Springs team was Knudson, who played forward. It was largely through this one man that the Miners were able to go up to the finals.

Rock Springs boosters, with the Cheyenne boosters, staged a parade in the business section of Laramie previous to the game. And at the games the bands from each town were stationed in their respective rooting sections and proved a very effective means of cheering for their teams.

Buffalo—Class A—Second Place

BUFFALO captured second place in the heavy-weight division. They were an outstanding team and with their guard Brock, they were able to obtain this place in the tournament. It seems as if all teams have to have their standby and he surely proved to be an all-around man, His never ending attitude "Thou Shalt Not Pass" he was able to give the other fellow a run for his money. Brock was placed on the All-State Basket Ball Team. The men. compose the All-State Basket Ball Team are elected by the Varsity Letter-Men of the University of Wyoming.

THE ENGINEERS' BALL

IN THE latter part of November, the University gymnasium was the scene of a radiant ball, over which the Wyoming Engineers presided. Due to the Engineers skill a wonderful fairyland greeted the guest. A canopy of blue and white enclosed the dancers' fairyland while a revolving wheel of light transformed the dancing floor into an enchanted palace. Miniature blue-prints of the Engineers' new building served as reminders of dances and dances which were most beguiling under the skill of the Kappa Sigma Serenaders.

A diminutive fountain from which delicious "ades" to the dancers flowed, enticed couples from their syncopation during the evening.

The gilt-edge finish to a marvelous evening was painted when wee Totsie Stewart entertained the guests with her tiny dancing steps during an intermission.

THE INTER-FRATERNITY BALL

IF EVER there was doubt in a co-ed's mind as to the social merits of fraternity men, that doubt was cast aside at the second annual interfraternity ball in early December, where the fraternity man reigned supreme.

As each paid tribute to his fraternity with his lighted pin, so did they all pay tribute to the Athletic men of the University with a lighted "W" which illumined the dancing floor.

Even the refreshments bespoke of a masculine touch. He "said it with music, and proved it with dancing," and the universal co-ed comment following the ball was, "Oh, Gee, you can spot a good fraternity man!"

THE CO-ED BALL

THAT opposite sex attract is an old saying, but one which Wyoming's traditional "Co-Ed" Ball heartily disapproves.

On a certain afternoon in late fall an observer would have been amazed at the sudden transformation of "Mary," "Sue" and "Lous" into "Tom," "Dick" and "Harrys," and at the unusual popularity of the dormitories as these manful figures strode hence in quest of their shy little maids.

Such an evening of "Cake-stepping," "Fox-trotting," "Side-splitting" and "Charlestoning" has never before nor since been exhibited. All in all, the "Co-eds" were delightfully satisfied with their "eds." After such miscellaneous items as food and the like had been dispensed with the couples wended their way slowly homeward.—"And they both lived happily ever after."

“THE 49ers”

A GREAT old brawl was “she,”—the “she” in this case being t’he gun-toting, roof-raising, hoof-lifting, annual “49ers” dance for which the Sophomores are held liable.

Weapons from rusty B. B. shooters to flashing black eyes were in order. The spirit of ‘42, ‘49, ‘76, ‘85 and every other period and era were represented in costume or otherwise. Dashing bar-maids, coy and sophisticated dancing girls, rough and sullen cowboys, and any and many other types of genus homo were to be seen here.

The chief diversions of the evening proved to be dancing, gamblin’, eating, drinking, shooting (and all that goes with it) with only minor casualties reported.

Send up a prayer for another “49ers” like the one of ‘27.

JUNIOR PROM WEEK-END

WHAT a mad whirl of teas, breakfasts and dances descended upon the Wyoming Campus during the week-end of May 12, 13 and 14. LO! it was the beginning of a glorious Prom week-end, the first of its kind ever held at the University of Wyoming, and initiated by the class of '28 in honor of the Senior graduates.

The festivities began with a series of delightful tea dances, progressive in nature, and presided over by the Varsity Villagers, the Dormitory women, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, and Delta Phi Sigma. The sorority houses and dormitory parlors were effectively decorated in spring colors with a profusion of spring flowers everywhere, and to these places fair co-eds with their escorts gaily tripped in never-ending processions. Here to entrancing strains of music, 'mid delicious "sups" of tea, Prom Week-end had its beginning.

Then came the Prom itself—the grandest ball of the year—the climax of all social festivities. Here 'neath soft shaded lights a gorgeous forest was revealed with trees, dancing fountains, mirrored lakes and flowers. In the shadowy recesses of the forest tiny tables were to be seen from which the "Food of the Gods" was served.

"All's well that ends well" was aptly demonstrated in the glorious finale of the week—the breakfasts presided over by the members of Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Kappa Sigma, Delta Mu Alpha and the Independent Club in their respective houses the morning following the Prom.

"Year by year in every sphere, the Junior Prom grows bigger and better."

THE beautiful lobby of Wyoming's half-million dollar gymnasium forms indeed a mecca for weary dansants during the intermissions. The immaculate walls, the rich-colored woodwork, and the gleaming tile floor needs only a couple of potted palms and an atmosphere of dinner coats, evening gowns, and medley of perfumes to convert it into a veritable hanging garden of Babylon—the lobby is a connoisseur of fads. This is the place of a hasty smoke; here gossip is thrown lightly on the winds of chance and political news is bandied about. In short, this is the center, the nexus, the pivot of that gay, sweet, long-to-be-remembered side of university life—society.

“PAN-HELLENIC BALL”

LO! a new tradition was inaugurated on the Wyoming Campus this year—the first Pan'hellenic ball came into being. Soft shaded lights from the crescent of Delta Delta Delta, the diamond of Kappa Delta, the Greek letters of Gamma Zeta and the Arrow of Pi Beta Phi guided the dancers in their syncopated enjoyment, and—until “the clock struck twelve” the first inter-sorority dance reigned supreme.

“A. W. S. FORMAL”

The second annual A. W. S. spring party was given in early April. The new gymnasium was transformed into a summer garden where only the most delicate shades of lavender, pink, yellow and green prevailed. One of the main features of the evening was the presentation to the guests of the newly elected A. W. S. officers.

“THE FORMALS”

The social calendar has been filled to the brim this year with many delightful parties. In addition to the regular pledge dances of all of the fraternities and sororities, formal dinner dances were given by Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma.

Alpha Tau Omega entertained at the Connor Hotel on Thanksgiving eve. Dainty bracelets with the Alpha Tau crest were presented to the guests.

The new Laramie Country Club proved to be a suitable setting for the Sigma Nu, Sig Alph and Kappa Sigma formals. The dinner tables at the Sigma Nu formal were made exceptionally lovely by tiny lighted blue and pink lamps, the stands of which were silver with the Sigma Nu crest of arms embossed upon them. Each guest was the recipient of a lamp. Each guest at the Kappa Sigma formal found a little hammered silver jewel case with the crest upon it at her place, while at the Sig Alph formal dainty crested leather picture frames were the favors given.

“Year by year, in every sphere, the formals grow bigger and better.”

THANKS!

THE Wyo Staff reserves this page in order to thank those who, although not members of the Staff, greatly aided in the disposing of the avalanche of work which accompanies the editing of the Wyo. The Staff herewith expresses its appreciation to those who came in to lend a hand—often when we were sorely in need of assistance. May they all be justly rewarded.

FAVORITES

THE WYO CONTESTS FOR FAVORITE GIRLS

THE POPULARITY CONTEST

THE WYO carried on a popularity contest with the first sales campaign staged by the staff. The contest was a close one, and was carried on with considerable enthusiasm. However, not as much interest was manifested as was expected, probably due to the fact that there was no such contest last year.

THE BEAUTY CONTEST

A new way of selecting beauties was instigated by the staff of '27. This method of selecting beauties from photographs by a recognized authority is quite popular with most colleges. This method was used by the Wyo staff this year, and the staff hopes that both contests were satisfactory to the majority.

Miss Keller

Miss Parkison

Miss Warner

Dear Mr. Boyd:

Long distance beauty judging is one of the hardest forms of indoor sport. It's difficult to know how a person really looks from a photograph. If I could have all these lovely girls here in my studio it would be easy. Then I could see them full face and profile. I could also study their hands and feet, notice whether they were graceful sitting and standing, and so on. To me all these things are necessary to beauty. That's the way we judged them at the Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City. We had them walking, sitting and pulling back their hair. Incidentally we found they all had ears.

From the photographs you sent I have tried to judge as fairly as I know how. If I'm wrong I'm glad there are a lot of miles between me and Laramie.

I thought it would be a good idea to consider which four would make the best models for the type of girl I draw. That wasn't so hard, but when I tried to figure them 1.2.3.4. then it got difficult. But knowing I had to choose this is the way I picked them. First- Miss Mildred Twidwell.- Second- Miss Helen McArrity. Third- Miss Frances Paulson, and Fourth- Miss Mable Coach.

I'm sending you back the photos today by parcel post. Drop me a line to the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles that you received the..

Best wishes,

Sincerely,

THE Inter-Fraternity Council has proved to be a very valuable organization in promoting harmony among the fraternities. This year their most important topic was that of initiating a system of deferred pledging among the fraternities. One of the highly successful affairs sponsored by this Council was the Inter-Fraternity Ball, held early in the year.

EVERY woman student in the University of Wyoming is a member of the Associated Women Students, an organization which, through a special student-faculty agreement, controls the social conduct of all University Coeds.

Each year a handbook is published containing the rules to be observed for the benefit of the incoming students. Aside from the regular mass meeting, only one special meeting has been called this year. At this session the freshmen petitioned for one ten o'clock library night which was allowed.

The coed ball, an affair participated in only by the girls, half of which are dressed as boys; a costume ball given in the winter term and a spring dance toward the end of school are social affairs which are annual events sponsored by this body.

BLUE KEY

OFFICERS

RALPH JOHNSON	President
GEORGE GUY	Vice-President
JOHN BRUNER	Secretary-Treasurer

BLUE KEY is a National Men's Booster Club. The local chapter was organized in the spring of 1926. Its purpose it to arouse pep and enthusiasm on the University campus, and, in general, to promote better spirit in athletic contests. During the year the organization has made it a practice to meet all athletic teams coming to Laramie from other schools.

In line of constructive work the organization "sent the band to Boulder," constructed a score board for the football field and arranged for a special train to take the students to the Wyoming-Montana football game at Casper.

BLUE KEY AND HOME-COMING

BLUE KEY perhaps reached the height of its achievements during home coming. The local football field had long been in need of a score board but it was not until Blue Key took the situation in hand that our prayers were answered. Blue Key not only sponsored this work but its members actually went out onto the field and constructed the board. The undertaking was an actuality rather than a post-prandial vision and the whole school is indebted to the organization for this accomplishment, which was first put into use for the benefit of the "old grads" who had returned once again to their favorite stamping grounds to see the much admired cowboy gridster in action.

Besides dressing the field with a new score board, Blue Key also robed its members in the characteristic brown and yellow jacket topped off with a "ten-gallon" Stetson and led the parade across the field to the rooting section where it took more than its part in arousing the enthusiasm of the crowd.

IRON SKULL

MARGARET GALE	President
FLOYD BUCKINGHAM	Vice-President
FRANCES SIBLEY	Secretary-Treasurer
ROBERT OUTSEN	Guard

IRON SKULL, a local honorary Sophomore organization is made up of people who were considered outstanding in scholarship, leadership, ability and athletics during their Freshman year.

One big event of the spring term is the Iron Skull Skid at which the candidates for membership are announced. Iron Skull attempts to uphold the University traditions, and aids in bettering the general welfare of the campus. This year, Iron Skull had to keep up with Wyoming styles by having a lady chief executive.

Active members are: Lillian Susilla, Zita Miller, Anna Marie Dudley, Maurine Lane, Frances Sibley, Mildred Parkinson, Elizabeth Hoitsma, Margaret Gale, Kenneth Danielson, Ed Flinn, Ted George, Rupert Campbell, Shelby Thompson, Floyd Buckingham, Archie Johnson, Wayne Towner, Ray Corbett, Vincent Washburn, Stanley Kuzara, Donald Harkins, Robert Outsen.

CAP AND GOWN

FEELING the need for an organization to recognize the achievements of Junior girls, three years ago in the spring of 1925 a group of Senior women, organized Cap and Gown, with the purpose of establishing a chapter of Mortar Board, National Honorary Organization for Senior women. Since the ultimate aim is to get Mortar Board, Cap and Gown has taken for its standards those of Mortar Board. Each spring at the Honor Assembly the seven girls who have been elected to carry on the work and to enjoy belonging to Cap and Gown are announced. These girls are chosen on a basis of Service (to the University) and Leadership, from among those Junior girls who have averages above 2.5.

The year 1926-27 has been very busy, giving benefit parties of one kind and another to raise enough money to begin to furnish the Nellie Taylor Ross Room, a recreation room for all the girls on the campus.

“W” CLUB

President	ROBERT GISH
Vice-President	LYLE SCOTT
Secretary and Treasurer	LOUIS ALLSMAN

“W” Club is an organization of the letter-man of the University for the purpose of further uniting in bonds of friendship the men who have played together in all the branches of sport. The object of the organization is to maintain a high standard of sportsmanship and clean athletics. Any man who has made a letter is eligible for membership in the club. Among its honorary members are listed the coaches, Athletic Director Corbett, President Crane, and prominent boosters in Laramie. Another function of the organization is the enforcing of school traditions and disciplining the incoming freshman class.

THE Women's Athletic Association is the National Honorary organization for women of universities. Its purpose is to promote good sportsmanship, develop an interest in athletics, and to sponsor intramural and class games.

Awards of class numerals, pins and silver loving cups are given for the securing of a certain number of points—points being regulated according to the National ruling.

Last spring a number of delegates from Wyoming attended the annual Play Day at Fort Collins. This year plans are being made for representatives to be sent to the meet which is to be held at Denver University.

IRRATIONAL CLUB

THE Irrational Club—alias the Math Club—was organized in the fall of 1924, and has been very active since. In its bi-weekly meetings the Club refutes the prevalent idea that math is nothing but a dull conglomeration of vague theories, incomprehensible formulas and bothersome problems by presenting the interesting and most popular side of this science. All math students are eligible to membership.

LA CHARLA is a Club made up of those students who are interested in the language and customs of the Spanish-speaking countries, and has had a very worth-while year. All of the members have taken a very active part in the activities of the Club. The meetings consisted of plays, poems, songs and talks by the various members.

THE Student's Christian Association is an outgrowth of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. These two groups united in their work in 1924, and after three years of existence the success has been so marked that the members are enthusiastic for the continuation of the united organization. Though the two groups are united on the Wyoming campus, they are individually associated with the national organizations of both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., and membership in the local association are also members of the National and International Associations. All students, regardless of religious beliefs, are eligible for membership.

KAPPA PHI

FLORENCE AHRENS	President
LUCILLE BURNS	Vice-President
MABEL FORSLING	Treasurer
LUCILLE KLUGHERZ	Secretary

KAPPA PHI is a social organization consisting of Methodist college women. The purpose is to train leaders in the church. At present there are between forty and fifty active members. The organization meets every second Thursday in each month in the Nellie Tayloe Ross rooms at Merica Hall.

Regular programs are given twice a month; besides three beautiful pageants have been given with great success. One of the most outstanding social functions given this year was the banquet in honor of the national officers, held at the Connor. Several prominent women are giving a series of talks to the girls that have been both very interesting and helpful.

THE Newman Club of the University is an organization of Catholic students which was founded by Cardinal John Henry Newman of Oxford University in England. Its objects are the promotion of the University and student welfare. Any Catholic student may be a member. Others wishing to be affiliated may be voted in.

EPISCOPAL CLUB

LOUISE MCNIFF	President
BYRON HUIE	Vice-President
FRED HARKNESS	Secretary
HELEN CORBETT	Treasurer

THE Episcopalian Club is an organization sponsored by the Episcopal Church, open to University students and is housed in the beautiful Balch Cottage, opposite the campus. The past year has been an unusually successful one, the membership having increased over one hundred per cent and more interest having been shown in religious and social activities than ever before.

Several classes in religious subjects have been held weekly and forums with musical and educational programs have been held every Sunday afternoon. As a social center the Club provides a large and very complete library, a dance floor, and rooms for cards and other games.

However, the most enjoyable hours are spent before the spacious fireplace over which reposes a bronze tablet whose inscription sums up the aims of the Club: "That Religion and Learning may go hand in hand, and Character grow with Knowledge."

BIG SISTERS

LAST spring the Big Sister Organization was started on our campus. In the fall when the freshman girls arrived this organization had members meeting every train, and escorting the new-comers to their rooms and acquainting them with the campus.

The organization is composed of ten upperclass girls with Miss Pearl Green as chairman.

The first affair sponsored by them was the freshmen mixer where the newcomers met some of the campus leaders.

Then in a short while came the Co-ed Ball, which helped everyone to become acquainted. This was a big success, the cabaret style being used, at which dancing, a program, and refreshments were enjoyed.

The winter term, a very successful Costume dance was given to the Frosh girls, at which a very large representative group attended. Very clever stunts were given by Cap and Gown, Hoyt Hall, Merica Hall, and the four sororities. Merica Hall carried off the honors by winning the prize.

Varsity Villagers

President	MILDRED FINNERTY
Vice-President	QUEEN SLIMAN
Secretary	HERMINE SILL
Social Chairman	LOUISE CORDES
Athletic Chairman	MARGARET MCCLELLAN

"They are Varsity Villagers,
 A name they're proud to own;
 Strong are the ties that bind them,
 For Laramie is their home.
 They're boosting for old Wyoming
 And working side by side,
 These loyal, happy maidens,
 The University's pride."

THE Varsity Villagers is an organization of all University women who do not live in the dormitories or in some organized house, the object being to further the purpose of unity by bringing the town girls in closer touch with those living on the campus and to co-operate with the A. W. S. in maintaining high social standards.

This year the Villagers held meetings every two weeks in the Nellie Tayloe Ross Room which they are aiding Cap and Gown to furnish. After each business meeting tea was served and interesting and varied programs were enjoyed. They also entertained at several dances and parties throughout the year.

GIRLS' PEP CLUB

MILDRED CALLAHAM President
MARCELLA AVERY Secretary

The Girls' Pep Club was organized in 1925 with the same purpose among the women students as the Blue Key has among the men.

The ultimate aim of the Club is the establishing of a chapter of "Spurs," the National Girls' Pep Club, on the University of Wyoming campus.

POTTER LAW CLUB

GEORGE GUY	President
LESLIE RASK	Vice-President
THEODORE BURNSTAD	Secretary-Treasurer

THE Potter Law Club is an organization of the law students and faculty and is named in honor of Chief Justice Potter, one of Wyoming's most esteemed judges. Under Dean Kinnane's leadership this year, the Club has had considerable success; holding meetings for moot court practice and for papers by prominent lawyers.

One of the most interesting cases tried this year was that of Guy vs. Chusie; a case in which the contestants voluntarily agreed to accept the decision as given out by the court. The case was handled by students in the regular manner before a full house, and the majority agreed that justice was meted out after a fashion to make some of our courts sit up and take notice.

Founded April 13, 1906

University of Wyoming Chapter established May 4, 1917

OFFICERS

J. WESLEY SAMPIER	President
FREDIA CONNER	Treasurer
JOHN MCGOWEN	Secretary

DELTA SIGMA RHO is the largest college debating fraternity in existence. Its character is purely honorary, membership being based upon participation in at least two intercollegiate debates and active work in debate for two years.

Its claim for existence is the fostering of better and more sincere public speaking. Each year the organization awards a silver loving cup to the winning debating team in the High School Tournament. This year the cup was awarded to the Basin High School.

During the spring term of each year the organization holds a formal initiation and dinner.

MARGUERITE JOHNSON	Treasurer

THETA ALPHA PHI is a national dramatic honorary fraternity, whose object is threefold: to cultivate appreciation of drama, to further interest in its study, and to develop talent along dramatic lines.

This year the organization produced several plays which brought out the fact that we have considerable talent on the campus. Among the outstanding plays produced were "You and I" and "St. Joan."

In recognition of the good work being done in dramatics, the University has provided a new playhouse, the Little Theatre, in which all plays are presented; and has provided for new club rooms in the basement of that building.

IT IS an honor to the University of Wyoming to have a chapter of this National Honorary Educational Fraternity on the campus. This, the newest of the honorary societies at Wyoming, received its inception thru the efforts of the Education Club of the College of Education. The petition of this Club for a chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was granted early in the spring of 1925, and the installation ceremony took place on May 25th, 1926, under the direction of Dr. Thomas C. McCracken of Ohio University, national president of the organization. The Wyoming Chapter is known as the Alpha Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

Kappa Delta Pi is the oldest of the Honorary Educational Fraternities, having been founded by Dr. Wm. C. Bagley, at the University of Illinois, in 1911.

Juniors, seniors and graduate students, who are registered in the College of Education, both men and women, are eligible to membership. High scholarship, leadership, and character are essential for consideration.

AG CLUB

President LEO PASCHAL
Vice-President ROBERT PETERSON
Secretary and Treasurer. WILBUR BRETTEL

THE Ag Club is composed of agricultural students who are interested in the modern problems of agriculture. Meetings are held bi-monthly, at which time noted speakers address the Club on problems of interest to them. The Club gives financial assistance to the stock judging teams, which compete at the western and international stock judging contests each year.

In addition to these functions, the Club sponsors several social affairs each year. This year a barbecue was put on for all students at the beginning of the year, and later the annual barn dance was staged at the agricultural barn.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

THE Alumni Association of the University of Wyoming has three main objects for which it can work, either as individuals or as a unit. The product of its work is service to the University, to its own members, and to the people of Wyoming. It can render that invaluable service of maintaining contact between old friends by fostering Alumni Clubs wherever a number of Wyoming's graduates and former students are located. The amount of service that the Alumni Association can render to its own members operates in an ever-widening circle as the membership increases. This service to its own members is sufficient to justify the existence of the Association, but it is more worthwhile in the support that it can give to the University and the State.

The first thing they can do for the people of the State is to urge the high school students to continue their education, and when they get to college urge them to make the most of their opportunities. The Alumni can use their individual and collective influence to see that the University gets proper consideration from the legislature. They can give it their wholehearted support at every opportunity until the people of Wyoming by their moral and financial support and by the attendance of the young men and women from all parts of the state will give the University the place that it deserves.

"You who call this University your Alma Mater are its greatest contribution to Wyoming and its development. You are a contribution to civilization."

ALUMNI CLUBS

WE WONDER what city will follow out the suggestion of the Casper Alumni Club and have the Montana game move about the State? What club is next? Casper does not want to "hog" it but she surely did put it over last year. Casper is willing to help make the game a big success in other towns. She knows how it was done and is willing to help. Will the game stay in Casper? Come, Alumni Clubs—pool your efforts—let the rest of the state see the game.

The backing received by the Alumni Club of Casper for the Montana State game has proved what a live Alumni Association can do. No one questions the great success—the wonderful enthusiasm on the part of the people in that section of the state and their great interest in the University of Wyoming after their attendance at that game. It was their University brought to them as never before in the history of the state. Casper put it over—and "How?"

CHEYENNE ALUMNI CLUB

"You wonder what we are and why we are—well, here we are," the Alumni Club answered to the senior class of the high school after they had left their cars and arrived on the campus of the University of Wyoming. Proud? Well, you should have seen the old ones (not in age) showing the kids the glories, old and new, of the campus. Was it worth while? Ask the kids. Why do that? Their smiles of joy more than repaid the Alumni Club, and as for the "old ones" there was a new light in their eyes for their Alma Mater. Cheyenne, your Alma Mater smiles upon you, her sons and daughters, and thanks you your light has never failed.

EVANSTON—A PLACE ON THE U. P.

That Evanston is on the U. P. can be vouched for by every team from the University of Wyoming that goes West. There they receive the last touch of good wishes from the "home folks." The Alumni Club and Wyo Hi Club of Evanston are there at the station to speed them on their way. It is this touch that makes the team feel that they represent all parts of the state, that these little clubs are expressing the will of the other Wyoming Clubs, and the teams strive and never quit.

SHERIDAN WORKING FOR THE FUTURE "COWBOYS"

With the entire senior class under its wings the Sheridan Alumni Club gave the youngsters a taste of the great "never die" spirit of loyalty that is possessed by all the sons and daughters of the University of Wyoming. They went into the hills on what we believe to be the first picnic ever conducted by past "Wyos" and future "Wyos," and when the party was over the youngsters knew what made the University of Wyoming great—her sons and daughters of the Past, Present, and Future—the bond of eternity.

PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

President RAYMOND JOHNSON
Vice-President WILLIAM HOCKER
Secretary-Treasurer GEORGE BAKER

THE Pre-medical Society was organized in 1924. Its aim is to promote an active interest in the medical profession.

Through the efforts of Dr. Scott, this organization has become quite active. The club has had several talks by men of their chosen profession which have proven very helpful. In the meetings many important topics are discussed pertaining to the immediate and the future problems of the pre-medical students.

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

DORIS LINEAWEAVER	President
RUTH PROUT	Vice-President
PEARL GREEN	Secretary
LILIAN SUSILLA	Treasurer

THE Physical Education Club is an organization of all the women of the University who are majoring and minoring in Physical Education.

The purpose of the Physical Education Club is to encourage an interest in athletics, develop physical efficiency, promote good sportsmanship, and develop a spirit of co-operation and fellowship.

PHI KAPPA PHI

THE Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi elects its student members from among the upper one-fifth of the Senior Class as judged on a basis of scholarship. Its purpose is to promote scholarship by recognizing achievement in any line of scholarly endeavor from any college of the University, whether it be in sciences or in arts. The Wyoming chapter was organized in 1922.

MASK AND SANDAL

EDWARD KEEFE	President
ALICE MOUDY	Vice-President
MAY GILLIES	Secretary
MAURINE LANE	Treasurer

Mask and Sandal was organized several years ago to act as a junior training body for Theta Alpha Phi, the National Dramatic Fraternity. Membership is obtained through try-outs held at various times during the year.

This year Mask and Sandal has presented several groups of plays to the University. Credit for Theta Alpha Phi is given for participation in any of the Mask and Sandal plays.

ATHLETICS

W. R. LEE

S. M. CLARK

R. A. FRAZER

"Bill" Lee, a familiar figure to all of us during athletic contests and about the gymnasium, is the man who lifts the fallen to their feet and patches them up so they can go back in and get another Aggie. In addition to these duties, he administers to minor injuries which may be sustained by students about the campus.

Coach "Stew" Clark has been associated with the University for the last three years as head basket ball and track coach and freshman football coach. Since his arrival, Wyoming's basket ball team has made especially rapid strides, and his work in the other two sports has also been rewarded with much success. Coach Clark always has a fighting Frosh team that gives the Varsity plenty of practice, while track under his guidance has rapidly developed.

R. A. "Babe" Frazer is the assistant coach of the swimming and apparatus squads at the University. His work in apparatus has shown progress gratifying to all and the teams have had a very successful season, besides pleasing many large audiences with their exhibition acts.

W. H. DIETZ

JACK LYNCH

JOHN CORBETT

William H. "Lonestar" Dietz, head football coach for three years, has developed Wyoming's football teams a great deal since coming to this institution. From being one of the "also rans" of a few years ago, Wyoming's football team has come to be respected and feared by every team in the conference. Dietz's system is recognized as the best in the conference, and the Cowboys owe their great success to him.

Wrestling at the Cowboy University under the leadership of Coach Jack Lynch has been one of Wyoming's athletic strongholds. Jack has been with our grapplers for several years and has always turned out a title contending team.

John Corbett, "the grand old man" of Wyoming's athletics is a well known character on the campus and over the entire state. He is head swimming and apparatus coach at the University, and has been Director of the Annual High School Tournament since its beginning. Coach Corbett is the head of the men's department of physical education, and in the new gymnasium, the dreams of his lifetime are being realized.

FOOTBALL, 1926

TAKEN as a whole, the season was not what it should have been. With their wealth of material and experience, the Cowboys should have ranked higher in the conference. Our team was capable of playing a master game of football, but it seems only for one quarter. However, there is always another football season.

Next year, although the loss of Miller, DeForrest, Mabree, Ferrall, and other famous gladiators will be keenly felt, things look bright with George and Harkins in the backfield, while Toucher and Ormsby are back in the line. Captain-elect "Mickey" Stanton will constitute one of the most capable, "fightenest" leaders that a Cowboy team has ever boasted. His knowledge of the game is unquestioned. His interference running is par excellence and he is a lion at backing up the line. Besides the regulars back, a wealth of Frosh material is coming up and next year's prospect is at least reasonably bright.

COWBOYS 7, NEBRASKA WESLEYAN 14

The Cowboys dropped their first start of the season to an inferior Nebraska aggregation. The Wyomingites showed spurts of flashy football, but the intervals were long and ragged. The Cowboys incidentally made 15 first downs to their opponents' 5, but they managed to make up for this error by losing 157 yards for penalties. The final whistle brought a very indifferent game of football to a close. The final score was Nebraska Wesleyan, 14; Wyoming University, 7. But the score does not give a correct estimate of the two teams.

COWBOYS 48, KEARNEY NORMAL 0

Three days after their first defeat by Nebraska aggregation, the Cowboys swamped Kearney 48 to 0. The game consisted of a pretty good imitation of "The Big Parade" with the Cowboys doing all the marching. The Wyoming team seemed to be whipping into shape and Dietz's plays looked good although Bard Ferral, whirled a path of destruction through the visitors' defense and everyone present conceded the big fireman to be one of the outstanding backs in the conference. The rest of the backfield looked good while Miller and Mabee got everything that came anywhere near them. The line, from tackle to tackle, was still rough in spots.

In the third football orgy of the season the Cowboys were tied by Colorado University 13 to 13. Wyoming started off like a Fourth of July sky-rocket and finished about the same way. Had our aggregation been able to keep up the pace, C. U.'s scalp would have been on exhibition in Main Hall for the homecoming crowd. Ferrall started off in a flash and swept Boulder off their feet with a Grange-like performance, scoring our first touchdown early in the first quarter.

George annexed another six points by means of his incomparable line bucking. Ormsby played havoc in the line but so did one McGlone of C. U. Wyoming lost its inspiration after the first quarter and the game was a toss-up from then on out. There's no use weeping over fumbled footballs and there's always another year. C. U. again displayed their usual number of horse-shoes crocheted with rabbit's feet, but they did admit that Ferrall was the greatest halfback that ever trod Colorado soil.

COWBOYS 6, U. A. C. 6

Before a record crowd and at a famous annual event, a very listless game of football was played between U. A. C. and Wyoming University. Outside of a few brilliant flashes in the first half, the 6-6 tie game was a repetition of about six plays. Ferrall and Thomas, Wyoming and Utah respectively, were smothered by the opposing line. They were marked men, when they first stepped on the field. Linford gave a neat exhibition of place kicking by tying up the score with two field goals. Teddy George bucked our lone score and tore through for the winning touchdown which, however, was not counted. Ormsby was the outstanding linesman in the field.

Anyway, in the manner of Grantland Rice, there was a colorful crowd present, but alas, the game was not played in a sea of mud.

Wyoming met its great Waterloo at Colorado Springs. Clear into the third quarter the Cowboys were riding roughshod until, in the third frame, Colorado College uncorked their phantom quarterback, Vandenberg, who scored through quarter. From then on out things were just too bad. There was a little matter of a couple of blocked punts and other errors on Wyoming's side. Anyway Ted

George bucked the ball down the line for several first downs in succession at five yards a crack and the stream killed and wounded left in his wake was something awful. Ormsby was a veritable stone wall in the line. In closing we might add that the score was 26-0 and we had the goose-egg.

On November 13, the Cowboys rode up to Casper hunting Bobcats. They found a whole pack of them, and while snow fell to curtain and veil the melee, and soften its hard features, the Montana Bobcats and Wyoming Cowboys mixed it up—mussed it up in gumbo in the northern end of the field padded with sand from the southern end, evidence of Wyoming's grit. The Cowboys' lariat was chewed, but fur flew plentifully. When things cleared up, Montana had broken loose to the tune of a 10 to 0 victory, but not until they had felt rope burns on their necks.

The crowning insult was administered by a bunch of fighting Irishmen down at Denver. The micks must have mistaken the team's yellow helmet for orange—anyway something stirred up their lust for murder and they did their best. Stanton was right at home and managed to get his share of the blood. Ferrall, Harkins, and George were the stars for Wyoming. Regis had eleven stars. The score was about 22-7 in favor of Regis.

On Thanksgiving day, the Cowboys wound up the football season in their defeat of Western State 71 to 0. The score is indicative of the comparative strength of the two teams. The wearers of the brown and yellow proved themselves high in the art of chasing the pigskin. The line was impassable on defense and paved the way for the backfield clear into the opposition's secondary defense when Wyoming had the ball. Each man in the backfield gave an imitation of Charlie Paddock on one of the famed Californian's good days. Ted George's stellar performance is worthy of mention. Our line-plunging fullback converted goals after nine touch-downs, three of which he had scored himself. Harkins, George, and Stanton will provide the scoring machine for next season. Redhair, DeForrest, Ferrall, and Captain Miller donned the brown and yellow for the last time on this day, and each of these old war horses left the field with a rising ovation and vociferous plaudits from the stadium.

In two practice games with the fast Union Pacific team of Laramie the Cowboys won one and lost one. The first game with the railroaders was the first game of the season for the University and resulted in a win for the railroad quintet. In a return game, however, which was played with members of the state legislature present, the Cowboys overwhelmed the U. P. in a decisive victory.

NEVER before in the history of the Cowboy institution have Wyoming athletes gained so much recognition as did the members of the 1927 quintet which was the fastest ever turned out in Wyoming U. The team gained third place in the Rocky Mountain Conference standing, which is the highest any Brown and Yellow team has ever stood.

Oscar Erickson, one of the outstanding men on the squad, was chosen on many of the mythical teams as guard. He was acclaimed the best guard in the eastern division by many writers.

Captain Pierce, the little giant of Rocky Mountain basket ball, was selected on the third All-Conference team picked by the Associated Press as running guard.

Donald Harkins, the diminutive forward, was chosen on the second All-Conference team selected by the Associated Press. He was second in scoring in the eastern division.

Another man to place on the third team picked by the Associated Press as forward was Captain-elect Koerfer.

IN the most spectacular race for Conference basket ball honors that the Rocky Mountain Conference has seen thus far, the Wyoming Cowboys took their places alongside of Colorado College and Colorado Teachers as a dangerous contender for the title despite the fact that at the beginning of the season the Yellow and Brown was doped by sport writers to be one of the doomed for tail-end prizes. However with seven letter-men namely Capta'n Pierce, Outsen, Erickson, Harkins, Koerfer, George, and Corbett, Coach Clark took the situation in hand and developed the strongest team in the history of the Cowboy institution. Although handicapped in several games by injuries, the true Yellow and Brown spirit dominated, and the Wyoming quintet fought its way to third place despite the many obstacles that lay in its path. Credit for the excellent showing of the Wyoming cagers must go to Coach Clark who taught them plenty of basket ball, and to the players themselves who worked hard and trained consistently. A close decision by a referee and a train wreck were two good reasons why the Cowboys did not annex the title of the eastern division of the conference. Three of the coaches of opposing teams put themselves on record as stating that the Cowboys were the toughest team that they faced during the entire season.

Prospects at the beginning of the season were anything but bright as other teams had their lineups from the previous year intact and were touted as having displayed great improvement in early season workouts. However, hard work and pluck made the season a success for the Wyomingites.

WYOMING opened the Conference season in Laramie, January 14 and 15, entertaining the Denver University Pioneers in a two-game series, which resulted in a victory for the visitors the first night and a victory for the Cowboys the next evening. In the first game, and one of the best played games of the season, the Pioneers took the Cowboys into camp 28-25 in a game that was replete with thrills and featured by the clever basket shooting of Ed James of Denver U. Denver led the entire route, but had the game lasted several more minutes the Cowboys would have won for they rallied superbly in the last few minutes falling only three points short of victory. At the half, Denver had a ten-point lead.

The Cowboys showed a reverse of form, however, the next evening, and having in mind what Coach Clark saw the first night came back and defeated the Denverites 31-26 in a game that was never in doubt from the opening whistle. This game was featured by the deadly basket shooting of Harkins and by the spectacular floor work of Captain Pierce who was everywhere at the same time. Harkins accounted for most of Wyoming's points and it was his shots both short and long that assured victory for Wyoming. The Cowboys got off on an early lead and were never headed. They fought every inch of the way and kept James, the Denver ace, so well covered that he did not seriously menace the Cowboy five-man defense, which was practically impenetrable, Denver making most of their shots from long range.

THE next week end the Wyoming tossers invaded Colorado meeting Colorado College on Friday evening and the Colorado School of Mines the following night. While on the way to Colorado Springs the engine lost a tire and the boys were stranded on the prairie for four hours arriving in Colorado Springs a few minutes before game time. Tired the Yellow and Brown five played in a listless fashion dropping a 31-18 tilt to the eastern division champs. The Yellow and Brown led 8-1 at the first ten minutes but from that point on were dead on their feet.

After a wholesome night's rest the boys went to Golden and took on the highly touted Mines quintet. The Cowboys were themselves however, and had little trouble in solving the slow-breaking offense of the Miners and easily broke through their defense for short shots at the basket. The score at the final whistle stood 33-15 in favor of the Yellow and Brown. The fast-breaking offense of the Cowboys was too much for the Orediggers. They fought hard but were not much of a match for the boys from the wide open spaces.

The next game was with the former champs, Colorado Teachers, and the Cowboys lost a heart-breaker to them 29-28 in a game which was anybody's until the final whistle was blown. A break with but a few seconds to go when Huggins shot a basket won for the pedagogs. The Cowboys were under the impression that Referee Hackenson had blown his whistle to stop the play but he ordained otherwise and the basket was allowed. It was one of the breaks of the game and credit cannot be taken from the Teachers for they fought hard. Harkins featured with his clever shots and the guarding of Erickson was a revelation. He played the last few minutes with an injured shoulder.

THE next evening the Cowboys moved on to Fort Collins and defeated the Aggies minus the services of "Oc" 38-31 in an exciting battle. Koerfer found his eye and this, coupled with the splendid playing of Pierce and Outsen and George, enabled Wyoming to win.

The next week-end Wyoming set back Mines.

Colorado College was next and what a game it was. Wyoming led until the final few minutes when Simpson and Clark of the visitors got hot and enabled the Tigers to nose out the Cowboys 39-28. Koerfer played the best game of his career, scoring fifteen points for the Cowboys. Captain Pierce also played stellar basket ball as did George who had a lot to do with Erickson out of the game.

The feature game of the season was on February 25, when the Cowboys overwhelmed the Teachers 37-26. Koerfer and Harkins led the attack making 29 points between them. Koerfer made ten points in two minutes to give the Cowboys a substantial lead in the second half. Harkins looped in some beautiful shots. Erickson was back in the game and his presence was felt. George played his usual stellar game at guard and Captain Pierce led his team in great fashion, besides playing a great floor game.

In the remaining games with Aggies and Western States, Wyoming had little difficulty in winning. Harkins made it miserable for the Aggies. Western States threw a scare into Wyoming in the first game but the second game was all Wyoming.

Erickson is the only man lost to the Yellow and Brown, and, although his absence will be keenly felt, Wyoming has great prospects next year.

INTRAMURAL---BASKET BALL

THE 1927 Intramural Tournament was spectacular, to say the least, brilliant play was in evidence and tight games were the rule rather than the exception. Several of the players looked like varsity material. Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed the best balanced team on the floor and they rightfully carried off the honors.

It looked as though the championship was on ice when the Sig Alphas defeated the Kappa Sigs previous to the finals, thus leaving the former as the only undefeated team in the series. On the last night, however, the A. T. O. defeat of the Sig Alphas forced a tie, but the Sigma Nus defeated the Kappa Sigs, thus making the S. A. E.s champions with only one defeat.

TRACK 1926

THE 1926 track squad made a very creditable showing during the season.

Two intercollegiate meets were held during the season. The first was a triangular meet held at Aggies with Wyoming, Aggies and Teachers, the Aggies won this meet with Wyoming a close second. Eastman, and Thompson were the main point getters in the dashes, while Goble and Meeboer did well in the distances. Greth showed up well in the shot-put. The second was a dual meet with Teachers on our own field. The Cowboys easily won this meet by a score of 88-43 taking first in all but three events. Captain Thompson, Eastman, Meeboer, Goble, Early, Kuzara, Allsman, Greth and Brown all took first places while the rest of the team succeeded in getting seconds and thirds, which rolled the score up for Wyoming.

AT the conference meet held at Boulder, Eastman took fourth in the century and second in the 220-yard dash, while Thompson took fourth in the same event. Greth copped off a third in the shot put.

At the Boulder Relays the Cowboys did not show up so very well. This was largely due to the fact that bad weather interfered with early training and the distance men were not able to get the necessary training.

Wyoming's track teams have been getting better every year and a bright outlook is held for the 1927 team. The team will, however, be weakened by the loss of Captain-elect Eastman, who is not in school this year. There is also an abundance of new material this year which is expected to develop, and with our new quarter-mile track it ought to be a very successful season for the Cowboys.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

EVERY night during a hard season of football Coach Clark and his yearlings were on hand to give the Varsity a tussle. Every week they were forced to learn different plays and run them against the varsity. The plays of the next opponents were used during the week preceding the battle. Despite this disadvantage the yearlings were able to put up a good game at all times.

Beside this duty of preparing the Varsity the versatile Frosh were able to participate in three games. These were with the Greeley Teacher's Frosh, and two with Fort Russell.

Twenty-one men were awarded numerals, and from this group should come a wealth of material for next year's team. The backfield was, on the whole, rather light, but several of them might be considered good material. It is in line material that this year's Frosh was rich. The yearling line combined weight with speed and experience, and as most of our losses next year will be in the line this is a good omen. Material should not be scarce for another high-class varsity next year.

TUMBLING

THE tumbling class this year was very good and equalled any that Wyoming has ever produced, although it consisted of a rather large group.

This squad was very successful during the season in relieving the monotony between halves at Basket Ball games, by giving some very good performances.

The future looks very bright for classes of this kind, as a large number of students are becoming more and more interested in this kind of training.

APARATUS SQUAD

THE Wyoming apparatus squad ended a very successful year for the first attempt at this end of sports at the University. The team was very successfully coached by Corbett and Frazer. One meet was held during the season with Aggies, which the Cowboy performers easily won by a score of 129-97.

The outlook for the future in this sport is very bright, as there are a number of good performers who promise to make good in this line.

SWIMMING

THE 1927 season ended Wyoming's second year of swimming. The team consisted of practically the same men as were on it last year with a few exceptions. Due to the pool being closed for a number of weeks during the season, the team did not get as much training as they would liked to have had, but did very well considering the handicap.

One intercollegiate meet with Aggies was held during the season. Wyoming lost this meet but showed up well in the fancy diving and also in the breast stroke.

At the conference swimming meet held at Salt Lake City, Utah, Capt. V. Dallas walked away with high honors in the fancy diving.

IN CASTING a fleeting glance over the past season's results in the gentle art—or possibly better called general art—of self-defense, we find that the wrestling team emerged with a record of credit to both itself and the University.

In figures there are eleven matches lost and fifteen matches won. The favorable margin is not as large as we would like to see, but upon analysis of the individual meets the results are more satisfying. The falls are favorable to us with four matches lost and nine matches won. The decisions, the only case in which the figures leave us on the shallow end, show five matches lost and three matches won. The other two matches were draws and count only as a good effort.

Considering the individual men, due mention should be made of Toucher in the one hundred seventy-five pound class. He won three of his four matches and lost the fourth through forfeiture after becoming injured in a fall from the ring at Western States.

Leake in the one hundred fifty-eight-pound class should not be overlooked with his good record of three matches won and one match lost through a decision.

However to Clark in the one hundred thirty-five-pound class goes the honor of being the season's hero. In his match at the Colorado School of Mines, with one minute to go, he suffered a broken leg, for most men that would have been the end of the match, not so with Clark. He not only had the determination to finish his match, but won it by a decision. An incident that should always be an incentive to the wrestling future at Wyoming University.

The work of the rest of the squad is equally appreciated, and the season's results show an extended effort on the part of both men and the coach. With many of this years' men coming back next year, we are looking forward for a much better and more successful season.

WOMENS ATHLETICS

INTRAMURALS

MERICA HALL seemed to live up to the reputation of the entire freshman class, by winning the basket ball tournament in the intramurals. Some very interesting games were played, the final being between Hoyt and Merica.

Varsity Villagers, the Sororities, and the two Halls had teams entered, which made the competition quite strong.

Miss Erma Lee was the very able captain of the team, which was composed of: Marion Heckel, Edna Cole, Mary Lou Heaton, Mary Aimonetto, Erma Lee and Evelyn Goetz.

HOCKEY

MUCH interest was shown in the intramural games in hockey during the fall, but owing to the weather, the games of the classes will not be played off until spring.

Hoyt Hall and Kappa Delts were to play the final game, but the game was forfeited to Hoyt, thus making the hall team the winner of the tournament.

The girls making the Hoyt team were: Hazel Kellar, Elizabeth Stacey, Frances DesEnfants, Helen Kellar, Ethel Sand, Edith Malone, Francis Wormwood, Jessie Brewer, Doris Lineaweaver, Josephine Russell and Edith McKinney.

BASKET BALL

AS USUAL, basket ball was a very popular sport, about one hundred girls being out for practice during the season. Miss Louise Cordes, manager of basket ball, deserves much credit, as to the manner in which the tournament was carried on.

After the intramurals, class teams were selected, and some hard battles were fought—the freshman class coming out victorious. Those making the team were: Mary Aimonetto, Doris Robinson, Edna Cole, Mary Lou Heaton, Marion Heckel and Erma Lee. Miss Doris Robinson was captain.

Later the varsity team was chosen from among the outstanding players. Those selected were: Edna Cole, Marion Heckel, Mary Aimonetto, Josephine Russell, Jessie Brewer and Helen Kellar.

VARSIITY VOLLEY BALL

THIS year volley ball games were played during the winter term. Much interest was shown in the class games, the freshman winning the championship, after playing the sophomores in the final game.

Members of the Freshman team were: Lucille Love, Captain and Manager; Bee Williams, Violet Mason, Fredia Gaensalen, Bobette Tebbitt, Edna Cole and Hazel Kellar.

From the four classes, the most outstanding players were selected for Varsity. They were: Louise Cordes, Ruth Prout, Helen Svenson, Pearl Green, Lucille Klughrez, Alice Smith, Bee Williams and Lucille Love.

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM

THE Girls' Rifle team was organized early in the fall of 1926. Much interest has been shown in this sport already; a telegraphic meet having been held with Pennsylvania University. Plans are being made for one with Oklahoma later on.

In the meet with Pennsylvania, the five highest scores of the ones making the team were sent in, those being made by: Ruth Prout, Josephine Russell, Mildred Callaham, and Pearl Green.

Captain Ring is the very efficient instructor of the class, which is composed of: Mary Whelan, Marcella Avery, Jewel Tilton, Doris Lineaweaver, Louise McNiff, Mildred Twidwell, Mildred Finnerty, Georgia Muskgrave, and the ones named above.

WYOMING AUXILIARY LIFE- SAVING CORPS

LILLIAN BORTON President
 ZAIDEE DICKINSON Vice-President
 MRS. SHOEMAKER Secretary-Treasurer

THE Wyoming Auxiliary Life-Saving Corps was organized this year and promises to be one of the outstanding activities on the campus. The organization started with nineteen members, and several more have passed the Red Cross Life-Saving Examination and are eligible to membership.

The aim of this organization is to promote interest in life saving and life-saving methods, and to perfect the members in their strokes and endurance.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

IN THE early fall of 1925 a great improvement took place when the Women's Physical Education Department was organized under the competent leadership of Miss Marguerite Hussey.

Ever since then intramural and class games have been organized and played and the interest shown indicates the popularity of the sports. Hockey, volley ball and soccer have been added to the program, and there is now a Wyoming Auxiliary Life-Saving Corps organized in swimming.

Baseball and track will be the chief interest this spring. Girls will compete in dashes, hurdles, broad jumps and discus throw. In baseball intramural games will be played, then the class teams selected, and those games played off. It is hoped that archery will be taught.

W. A. A. is the strongest national organization in this department. It promotes interest in athletics and all contests. The Wyoming Chapter sent delegates to the Annual Play Day held at Fort Collins last year. This year it is to be held at Denver University, and it is hoped that by next year the Colorado colleges will all be guests at Wyoming for this annual event.

The Physical Education Club is a very active organization, having as its members majors and minors in that department. At present there are about thirty enrolled in this course.

The Girls' Rifle Team has created much interest, and at present there are about fifteen members. The Girls' Tumbling Team, under the efficient coaching of Miss Ruth Campbell, offers the boys some keen competition.

At present, Miss Nan Weed is the very able head of the Department.

Miss Law: "Give a sentence with the word justice."

Sig Mowry: "I'd justice soon kiss you as not."

Dr. Coulter: "Your work is quite original."

Buckingham: "Oh! yes, Professor. Even the spelling is my own."

"Don't you think my girl has got a neck like a swan?"

"I don't know, I never necked a swan."

Miss McKittrick: "Were you raised on Mellin's Food?"

Helen Keller: "No, I was raised on yeast cakes."

We know a fellow who is so dumb that he thinks he will graduate in four years.

Jean Mabee: "You men are all alike."

Shelby Thompson: "Then why do you girls want three or four?"

Visitor: "Can you tell me if May is up in her room?"

Jane Hunt: "Sorry there's nobody home on the top floor."

Visitor: "Oh, excuse me, I'll ask someone else."

Mrs. Ford: "Isn't this book rather technical?"

Winston Howard: "It was that way when I got it."

"Swede" Johnson: (looking in the phone book for Smith): "Gosh, if Pocahontas hadn't taken the fatal step, we could carry a telephone directory in our vest pocket."

Ron Barker: "Who was the hottest fiddler who ever lived?"

Davey: "Nero."

Teacher: "Harold, in the sentence 'I saw the girl climb the fence,' how many i's would you use?"

Young Hero: "Both of 'em."

A few years ago being knock-kneed was a misfortune. Now it is a dance.

Bob Walton: "I'll never ask another woman to marry me as long as I live."

George Baker: "Refused again?"

Bob: "No, accepted."

Doctor Peterson: "Why are you so far behind in your studies?"

Bates: "So I can pursue them better."

Ray Thompson: "What makes you think Moses was a fraternity man?"

George Guy: "Well, wasn't he in the thick of the rushes?"

Catherine Ekdahl: "What keeps the moon from falling?"

Ron Barker: "The beams."

The most reliable lads in the world are college men—there never seems to be a bit of change about them.

H. SVENSON

LARAMIE, WYOMING

WE PRINTED THIS BY MISTAKE

A FEW days ago a certain young Kappa Sig, accompanied by his sister, visited a store to purchase a birthday present for his best girl. Thinking a book or a box of candy too common, he decided to give her a pair of gloves. So he made his purchase accordingly while his sister bought a pair of fancy silk hose. In some way the bundles became mixed and the young man, not knowing of it, sent the stockings along with the following note to his sweetheart:

"Dearest———: I hope you will enjoy this little present instead of something foolish. Oh, how I wish no other hands than mine would ever touch them after you put them on, but I know, dear, that such a wish is vain. A score of fellows may touch them when I am not by your side and other eyes than mine may see them on the streets and at dances. I bought the largest pair that I could find and if they are too long you can let them wrinkle down. Always wear them at dances. I want to see how they fit. Some fellows have dirty hands and are likely to spoil them, but you can clean them, dear, with benzine, if you leave them until dry. I hope they are not too small. Blow on them before you put them on. From your loving———."

Moral: Always look inside of a box before you send it away.

It is rumored that Bob Bates has had engraved on his pin the following inscription: "For exhibition purposes only."

THUMBS DOWN ON

I. The man who calls up at 7:45 P. M. and wonders if he has got you out of bed.

II. The dramatic individual who gazes into your eyes, presses your hand, and inquires if you are intellectual.

III. The big, brave athlete who carefully points out that he is breaking training for your sake.

IV. The telephone caller who makes you "guess who this is."

V. The blight who takes the joy out of life by announcing that you are different from other girls.

VI. The cavorting ape who insists on showing you a new dance step in the very middle of the dance floor.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Dr. Downey excitedly shouting, "Let 'er buck," at a basket ball game?

A University girl at a W. O. W. dance?

Everyone in Dr. Hammond's classes passing?

A Theta Alpha Phi play in which Ted didn't have a part?

Mrs. Ford angry?

Wayne Towner awake?

Dr. Hebard rushing into class at six minutes after eight?

John Bruner unhappy?

Catherine Ekda hl without Ron Barker?

Anyone studying in the library?

Shelby Thompson serious?

HEARD AT THE PI PHI HOUSE

Mary: "Do you like Dr. West's tooth brush?"

Helen McG. "Really, I don't know. I always use my own. Besides it isn't Dr. West!"

FROM HOYT HALL

A new game or rather a new version of an old game has come into parlor prominence.

"Frat-pin, frat-pin who's got the frat-pin?"

For information regarding rules page chief fans, Mildred and Ted.

"Army intelligence tests, Thorndike tests, and such arbitrary methods do not really indicate intellectual standing," says a magazine article. So glad that they are beginning to agree with us.

Seems that there are a few students yet who think that school spirit comes out of a bottle.

HEARD DURING RUSH WEEK

"We had nine men on the Varsity football squad—we are going to build a new sixty thousand dollar house soon—we have better eats than any frat on the campus—our pin was judged to be the prettiest in the U. S.—If you miss fraternity life you miss half your school life—we have more active chapters and are rated higher in Bairds than any other frat on the campus—and we rate high with the sororities—our house is all paid for and that's more than any of the rest can say—we have the best cook—you'll never get along with that gang—our bunch is best—etc."—and then, the boys do just what they planned on before they left home, and do what they please.

"What would I be if I ate my father and mother?"

"Why a cannibal, you awful thing."

"No, just an orphan."

We heard that this year's Frosh are about to petition for deeper and larger frog ponds for the accommodation of next year's green ones.

Can you imagine Harold Ballangee softly chuckling?

Can you imagine Al Pence tongue tied?

SAVING IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SUCCESS AND FAILURE

President Coolidge has said that: "Every one knows that it is not what is earned, but what is saved which measures the difference between success and failure."

Buying inferior goods because they are cheap is not thrift. It is wasteful because the service is correspondingly short.

The way to decide "Where savings are greatest" is first to look into the ability of the store to buy right; then the reputation of the store for selling right.

The buying power of this STORE is tremendously increased because of the co-operative buying for all the STORES of this nation-wide organization. This advantage is your advantage each time you buy from us. And paying cash you enjoy an added saving.

TRADE

MARK

SHINE-ALL is an efficient, trade-marked chemical cleanser, which contains no harmful agents, such as alkali, acid-ammonia, soda or lye and caustic, found in all cheap soaps and powders that require a brush or scrubbing machine and lots of labor to use. Many of these cheap materials also contain strong chemicals of an injurious character or grit and heavy abrasives. When such materials are used on finely finished woodwork, linoleum, rubber, composition, tile of any kind, cork, painted, or any finished surfaces, they actually destroy the surface. Repainting or refinishing is costly. In the case of linoleum, rubber or similar types of floors, these soaps and powders will sooner or later ruin such floors and the flooring manufacturers warn you expressly against their use.

SHINE-ALL has been thoroughly tested and tried, and approved for linoleum floors by the makers of ARMSTRONG'S LINOLEUM and BLABON'S ART LINOLEUM. It has been used for years in the leading hospitals, court houses, office buildings, and other public buildings over the country. This cleaning-day boon is available to the woman of the home as well. Just remember that SHINE-ALL is a liquid cleanser, and that it contains no caustic acid or anything injurious to polished woodwork, furniture, or enamelware. For tile floors, marble or terrazzo, SHINE-ALL acts as a filler and a polisher, leaving a smooth, glossy surface that is easily kept clean by daily wiping.

CARBONATED DRINKS

Bottled

These beverages refresh because they are food as well as drink. Pure sugar gives energy and pep. Pure water to throttle the thirst. Pure flavor to tempt the palate. Carbonation lends that piquant tingling taste, insures scientific purity of the drink and stimulates digestive functioning. The perfect carbonation is possible only when the beverage is bottled.

It takes a clear eye and a steady nerve to "hit the bull's eye."

It takes the same to build a home.

A clear eye to see the enormous advantages of home building;

A steady nerve to hold the aim true until that home is built.

BUT NEVER FORGET THIS—

The man who has succeeded in "hitting the bull's eye" by building his home, will find that it is easier to shoot straight at anything else he wants.
